

PREFACE

This publication attempts to compile the activities of the Goa forest Department with facts, figures and other related information giving the readers at a glance an insight into the developments and achievements in the last few years and also showcasing the endeavour of the department in conserving the unique biodiversity of the State along the verdant Western Ghats through sustained efforts.

I would like to thank Shri Richard D'Souza, Principal Chief Conservator of Forests whose initiative and constant guidance has been instrumental in bringing out this publication. My thanks are due to the senior officers for their support, divisional heads and all the forest staff for their contributions which has made this publication possible within a short time. I also thank Shri Amar Heblekar, Assistant Conservator of Forests for designing this book.

Though efforts have been made to present precise information, any errors and suggestions for improvement may be brought to our notice.
